

Lindsay C. Ray '10
Distinguished Student Award

Lindsay Ray will graduate in May with Bachelor of Business Administration and Bachelor of Arts degrees. She has 4.0 averages in both her majors: entrepreneurial management and theatre.

A Dean's List student, Ms. Ray is a participant in the John V. Roach Honors College and Neeley Fellows, the business school honors program. She is a member of Order of Omega and Alpha Lambda Delta national honor societies. She was a Clark Society Scholar in 2008.

Ms. Ray served as president of two organizations: the 150-member TCU Student Foundation and the TCU Panhellenic Council. She represented both on the Intercom Board and was an ad hoc member of the National Alumni Board. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority and was named 2009 Panhellenic Woman of the Year. She also appeared in Theatre TCU's production of Anything Goes.

Ms. Ray has held two internships: one with the TCU Office of Admission and a second with the Susan G. Komen Tarrant County affiliate. She also has been a Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure volunteer and participant.

A member of the Omicron Delta Kappa leadership honor society, Ms. Ray has served as an Emerging Leaders facilitator. She has participated in five Frog Camps and has been a Monday at TCU lunch speaker for three years. She was recognized with the Order of Omega Freshman of the Year and the Class of 2010 Pillar of Leadership awards.

The thirteenth member of her family to attend TCU, the Fort Worth native applied to no other university.
